RANGER AGAIN SHOWS HEELS TO ENDEAVOUR IN SECOND OF SERIES

Vanderbilt Sails His Defending Yacht Home With Even Greater Lead Over Challenger Than in First Race—Sopwith Requests One Day Postponement—Next Race Tomorrow

NEWPORT, R.I., Aug. 2 (AP)—Harold Vanderbilt's Ranger today established herself as a faster boat in light weather on and off the wind as she took the second of a best-of-seven race series for the America's Cup from T. O. M. Sopwith's British challenger, Endeavour II.

The big American sloop won as easily as it did in the first race of the yacht's world series last Saturday and Sopwith asked for a one-day postponement, which was granted. Renewal of Britain's sixteenth challenge will be made on Wednesday. It was expected changes would be made in the blue-hulled craft with which Sopwith hopes to regain the trophy for the first time since the schooner American triumphed in 1851.

EVEN LARGER MARGIN
Ranger sailed the thirty-mile triangular course in 3:41:33, a margin of eighteen minutes and thirty-two seconds over Endeavour. Saturday the American yacht won over a thirty-mile windward-leeward course with a margin of seventeen minutes and five seconds.

Today's race was sailed in fog and the challenger appeared a dim shadow nearly three miles back as Vanderbilt steered his big yacht to victory.

Without waiting for the Endeavour to ghost over the finish line, the spectator fleet acclaimed the Ranger with a din of horns and whistles as she came home.

But the British boat received almost as rousing a cheer, some eighteen minutes later when Sopwith brought her in from the triangular jousting stretch.

BETTER OF START
Sopwith had much the better of the start, but failed to hold his advantage. Continued on Page 15, Column 7

RISKS LIFE TO SAVE SWIMMER

E. J. B. ("Ted") Witter Prevents Drowning Tragedy At Qualicum Beach

Modest in spite of his deed, but loudly acclaimed by his fellow swimmers at the Olympic Logging Company's camp on the Horne Lake Road, E. J. B. ("Ted") Witter, seventeen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Witter, 1804 Quamichan Road, distinguished himself by saving another swimmer from drowning, at the risk of his own life, late last week off the mouth of Big Qualicum River.

Young Witter, who is six feet tall and of slender build, was swimming in the evening in very rough water with a Mr. Smith, of Vancouver, a signaller with the Thompson-Clarke Logging Company, at the time of the near tragedy. Smith, about forty years of age, short and thick set, was swimming towards shore from a raft anchored approximately fifty yards out. Being only a fair swimmer he was unable to reach the shore and attempted to touch bottom with his feet. Failing this he became exhausted and was gradually carried out to sea by a strong undertow.

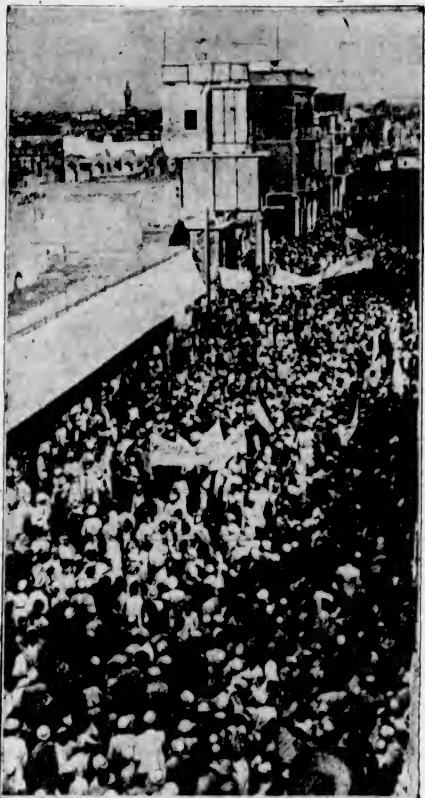

CRIS FOR HELP
His cries for help reached Witter, who was swimming twenty-five yards away at the time. Reaching the older man, the boy pulled him to the surface, but was clutched by Smith and both sank several times in the ensuing struggle. Gaining a foothold on a sandbar that jutted out from the shore, Witter managed to spring to the surface with Smith and succeeded in towing him ashore.

Both men were completely exhausted from the struggle and were forced to rest on the beach. Witter learned to swim at the local Y.M.C.A. under coach Archie McKinnon. He visited with his parents here over the week-end and casually mentioned the rescue to his father just before returning Up-Island, where he is working during the summer months. "Ted" is in second year at Victoria High School.

Pioneers Guests Of Victoria for Festive Reunion

Mayor Andrew McGavin and Aldermen Hosts to Citizens of 1862 at Banquet at Empress Hotel—Birthday Revels on Air Across Canada in Lively Programme

YEARS sat lightly on the shoulders of fifty pioneers last evening as men and women who had watched Victoria receive its municipal charter in 1862 were tendered a banquet at the Empress Hotel by the city, with Mayor Andrew McGavin in the chair. Golden jubilee citizens, and upwards of 100 other guests, sat down to dinner, preceded by a half-hour's broadcast over the Canadian Broadcast chain, and followed by an excellent programme of dancing and musical numbers.

Score Killed in Ship Collision

ATHENS, Aug. 2 (AP).—Eleven bodies had been recovered but the bodies of the six other passengers and crew of the excursion boat Anastasia were still missing late today after it had been cut in two in a crash with the steamer Hydra.

Twenty persons were injured. Passengers of the Anastasia had been on a Summer outing. The crash occurred in the outer harbor of Piraeus.

In bidding welcome to the city's guests, His Worship said that few cities had had a more interesting history, incorporating as it did the days of the Cariboo gold rush, years of pelagic sealing, and the more recent development of lumbering, on to the present day when scientific advances had banished frontiers and made Victoria a pivotal point in the greatest Commonwealth of Nations the world had ever known.

CONVEYING GREETINGS
Representing the Provincial Government, Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir conveyed the felicitations of the Province to Victoria on its seventy-fifth anniversary of municipal incorporation, and expressed good wishes for the future development of the city. Of the citizens of 1862, he said that age had touched them so lightly that others present would wish that each would be as healthy and as happy when passing the same milestone.

Other possible injuries were not determined immediately. The rescue crew removed Benedict Riccopoli, thirty-six, several hours earlier, and had recovered the body of Angelo Lorendi, forty-eight, crushed to death in the fall.

INCENDIARISM BREAKS OUT

Four Buildings Destroyed And Two Damaged in Doukhobor District

GRAND PORKS, B.C., Aug. 2 (AP).—Guards were posted around school buildings in the Doukhobor-settled communities in this Interior British Columbia region today, after an outbreak of apparently incendiary fires destroyed four buildings and damaged two others Saturday night.

As police pressed an as yet unproductive search for incendiaries who fired the Great Northern Railway station here and three barns in the Slokan Valley over the week-end, guards were replaced at all schools.

GUARDS WITHDRAWN

Saturday night's outbreak followed by a week the withdrawal of guards who had been stationed at schools and bridges following the wave of burnings and bombings which destroyed eleven schools and community halls last April.

Police checked reports that a truck carrying three men had been seen fleeing from the blazing barn on the farm of Jim Pasnikoff, one of the three burned in the Slokan Valley. Continued on Page 2, Column 7

BOYCOTT VOTED BY IMPERIALS

Will Attend No Celebrations Where Minister of Pensions Expected

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 2 (AP).—A boycott against all veterans' celebrations was voted by the Imperial Veterans in convention here today. Only three Toronto veterans voted against the resolution.

It calls for boycotts by all Imperials in Canada until Mr. Power withdraws remarks which the gathering believed "constituted a slur on the entire British army." The words complained of were uttered in a debate in the House of Commons.

According to Hansard, the resolution was taken. Marilyn said of a certain group of Imperials: "The United Kingdom is the country these Imperials fought for; they did not fight for this country. If they have a complaint, let them make it to the Imperial Government."

The resolution also calls the attention of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King to the report of Mr. Power's remarks and asks whether the Prime Minister "approves the attitude and words of his minister as reported and whether these expressions represent the opinion of his Government."

GIRLS KILLED IN FALL FROM ROOF

Plunge From Apartment Building And Wedged in Ten-Inch Space Five Floors Below

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP).—Two little girls who fell five floors into a ten-inch space between two apartment buildings today while at play on the roofs, died after emergency squads rescued one with a lowered rope, and battered through a brick wall to reach the other.

Lorraine Chinchir, ten, died of a skull fracture and other injuries, lowered from the roof by a rope, managed to remove her from the cramped area into which she fell. Later at the hospital where both girls were taken, Marilyn Murphy, nine—who managed to smile weakly and thank policemen who battered through a brick wall to reach her—also died.

DUNCAN, Aug. 2 (AP).—Karl Ludwigson, a faller for the Lake Logging Company at Cowichan Lake, was killed in a logging accident on Monday. An inquest will be held at Cowichan Lake by Col. J. H. Boyd, coroner. Mr. Ludwigson, said to be a married man, has a brother living at Rock Bay, near Campbell River.

Johnston Nationals Defeat Eastern Titleholders to Capture Connaught Cup, 3-2—Larson and Greer Turn in Fine Performances for Victors

WINNIPEG, Aug. 2 (AP).—Paced by the sensational Swede Larson, Vancouver Johnston Nationals defeated Toronto Ulster United, 3-2, at Carruthers Park here tonight to win the final game of the best-of-three series and take the Canadian soccer title. Vancouver held Toronto even in the thrill-packed first half and outplayed the Eastern Canada champions in the second to go ahead and annex the Dominion Football Association championship and the big silver trophy presented by the English Football Association for Canada's best team.

Ulster won the first game 3-1 and Nationals came back to take the second 3-1 and win the title tonight.

WIDE OPEN GAME
Both teams played wide-open soccer for the first forty-five minutes, and at half-time the score was tied 2-2. Local experts said it provided some of the fastest soccer they had ever witnessed. Play started from one end of the field to the other in the first half,

Blame White Guard for Attack on Soviet Consulate-General in Tientsin—Moscow Authorities Charge Attackers Organized by Japanese Intelligence Men—Satisfaction Demanded

Japan Takes Measures for Enriching Her War Treasury

MOSCOW, Aug. 2 (AP).—Japan tonight disclaimed any responsibility for a raid of the Soviet Consulate at Tientsin by white Russians, in answer to Moscow's "determined" protest.

Japan's ambassador, Mamoru Shigemitsu, told the Foreign Office that his nation could not be expected to comply with the Russian demands for punishment of the raiders, return of property seized by them and compensation for damages.

Soviet authorities said the white guard attackers were organized by Japanese intelligence service men. The White Russians are opposed to the Soviet regime, and many of them are residents of Tientsin.

A VERBAL PROTEST

While a formal protest was to be delivered at Tokyo, verbal representations were made to the Japanese Embassy at Moscow.

Shigemitsu, instructed by his Government, replied:

1. The raid occurred in the old Russian quarter of Tientsin, over which Japanese had no control.

2. The raid took place amid confusion and during fighting there (involving Chinese and Japanese, for control of the city which is Japan's North China garrison headquarters).

3. The raiders all were Russians (Soviet dispatches from Tientsin said there were also Japanese), who apparently took advantage of the confusion to attack the consulate.

4. Japanese at the time were occupied only in trying to restore order.

The Soviet regime instructed its ambassador at Tokyo to demand complete satisfaction, including the immediate arrest and punishment of perpetrators of the attack, and the return of goods seized by the raiders.

DISCHARGED IN POLICE COURT

Albert Kidd Freed of Murder Charge at Preliminary Hearing

NANAIMO, Aug. 2 (AP).—Albert Kidd was discharged from custody at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon after having been held on a charge of murdering his father, John Kidd, at their ranch on the night of July 16. The case had been remanded three times and on July 23 a coroner's jury had brought in a verdict of accidental discharge of a shotgun while in the hands of young Kidd.

The father had been shot twice through the shoulder and died early next morning in hospital.

After the preliminary hearing today, in discharging Albert, the magistrate said there was no motive for murder shown by the Crown, there had been no evidence of a quarrel and all three persons involved had sworn it was an accident. The father had made a statement just before death exonerating his son and saying that "he done no wrong."

The Crown was represented by A. McLean, of the Attorney-General's Department, and the defence was conducted by C. Murray Reynolds, Nanaimo.

"Spencer's Remnants" From Vancouver to Parade Here Wednesday

"Spencer's Remnants," a smart detachment of veterans, consists of those men who saw service during the Great War, from the Vancouver store of David Spencer, Ltd. They will take part in the City Jubilee parade in Victoria on Wednesday. The Remnants were organized following a drive to send veterans from the store to the Vimy Pilgrimage, and the organization of 105 members now consists of eight platoons. Each platoon leader is responsible for communicating orders and collecting weekly dues, payable by each member. Business is transacted at monthly meetings held in the store dining-room, when entertainment and guest speakers are featured. Seventy branches of His Majesty's forces are represented, including British army and Canadian units and, of course, the Royal Navy. Officials declare the organization is functional in the role of supplying esprit de corps and leadership in the organization it serves; and as a body it promotes comradeship, loyalty, new friendship and benevolent aid among its members.

salute. Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, representing Mayor Andrew McGavin, gave a short address.

The march past constituted a brilliant spectacle, naval detachments and troops moving past the saluting base in column of route, the Lieutenant-Governor taking the salute. Each unit was played past by their own bands. The band of the Royal Marines was the duty band for the naval detachments. The marching units in khaki, blue and red tunics and white helmets made an impressive sight. The naval detachment was in white.

CHANGING THE GUARD
Changing of the guard, a ceremony as old as the army itself, was carried out by guards of the 1st Battalion (16th C.E.F.), Canadian Scottish Regiment, in full dress. The new guard was marched on by the pipe band, corporals of the guards exchanging orders, the officers visiting the guard house and the marching off of the old guard. The ceremony was carried out with remarkable precision.

The crowds gave a rousing reception to the men of H.M.S. Exeter for their display of the Salvo's Trompe, which was followed by a Bu de Jole by the Royal Marines, raised in 1884 and administered by the military authorities, and since 1955 administered by the Admiralty. This ceremony consisted of firing three volleys, which forms part of a salute. In French it means literally a bonfire or a fire of joy, and consists of a series of shots fired in quick succession along a line or lines of riflemen. The band of the Royal Marines played the musical part of the salute.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT

The historical pageant, presented by the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade, Royal Canadian Artillery, was perhaps the most colorful of the displays. It depicted the five periods of the brigade from 1862 to the present day. Each unit, representing a period, marched past the reviewing stand. The units were: Victoria Volunteers of 1862, Victoria Rifles of 1877, 5th Regiment, Canadian Garrison Artillery, 1902; the Great War, 1914-1918, and the 5th as it is today. The 5th, representing the Great War period, marched past in full marching order, with steel helmets, and the present-day corps was in full dress.

The gymnastics and physical training by men of Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, permanent force, gave a picture of the other side of soldiering, the display being presented to show the process of development of youth to a high standard of efficiency in harmony of movement, physical form and discipline. Two groups demonstrated some difficult tumbling and closed with a human fan in front of the grandstand.

AMBUSH OF CONVOY

The ambush of a convoy was realistically carried out by the composite units of the non-permanent active militia, consisting of No. XI Fortress Signals, 17th Fortress Company, Royal Canadian Engineers, 8th Divisional Company, Royal Canadian Army Service Corps and 13th Field Ambulance, Royal Canadian dian Army Medical Corps. The convoy was supposed to be proceeding along a roadway when surprised from ambush by the enemy. The enemy opened fire and the fire was returned by the convoy, the latter succeeding in overcoming the attack, cutting the barbed wire entanglement and proceeding. The wounded were collected by the ambulance corps. Very lights and flares were used to add a touch of realism to the scene.

The concluding item on the programme was the field gun display by gun crews of the Royal Canadian Navy. Two gun crews were supposedly landed and on the march when surprised by artillery fire from an enemy. The attack was signalled by the explosion of "bombs" on the field. Immediately the guns were unlimbered and the fire returned. The crews also gave a demonstration of their ability to dismount the guns and take cover. The manoeuvres were carried with the customary naval precision.

VETERANS HONORED

During the ceremony, the Lieutenant-Governor presented gold cuff links to veteran members of former units of the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade. At the conclusion of the presentation, the group of seven were honored by taking the salute of the brigade as it marched past, with bands playing. Those in the group were: Ex-Magistrate George Jay, joined in 1876; Frank Sargison, 1876; John Irvine, 1877; Frank Partridge, 1878; W. B. Spofford, 1878; D. G. McNaughton, 1878, and Herbert Kent, 1879, the last named being the father of Lieutenant-Colonel M. A. Kent, officer commanding the present brigade.

The grand finale consisted of massed troops and massed bands playing. One of the features of the musical part of the ceremonies was the pipe band and brass band playing together. It was stated by the announcer it was the first time attempted here.

The parade ground was lighted by naval searchlights and floodlights. Tents and marquees formed the military background for the ceremonies.

Five Former Mayors Of Victoria Recall Many Years' History

Advances Made and Obstacles Overcome Are Described at Luncheon Given by Chamber of Commerce—Old Minutes Are Read

MARKING the seventy-fifth anniversary of the incorporation of the City of Victoria, a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held yesterday in Spencer's dining-room, when five former mayors, who held office between the years 1904 and 1936, addressed the gathering.

Tracing the evolution of the Chamber of Commerce since its establishment in 1861, Harold Hubbard, president, declared the organization had since worked indefatigably in the interests of the city. He paid tribute to the pioneers who made Victoria a city, and those who still make their homes here. In praising the mayors and councils of the past, he remarked upon the city's motto "Semper Liber," and declared that Victoria must be kept "always free" in the wider interpretation of the term.

In conclusion, he declared there was a new era of prosperity apparent on the Pacific Coast in which Victoria would certainly share, and assured the need of furthering the tourist industry still more.

MAYORS' THANKS

Mayor Andrew McGavin thanked the officials of the Chamber of Commerce for their invitation, and suggested that as the luncheon was a special occasion, that he be allowed to read the minutes.

C.P.R. PRAISED

"Victoria has been well-treated by the C.P.R., who have been a great factor in its prosperity," the Senator remarked. He gave credit for building the retaining walls at James Bay to ex-Mayor Hayward. "I look upon my terms as mayor and alderman as a most valuable and pleasant experience," said Alex Stewart, mayor in 1914-15. "When I became mayor, I asked for the confidence of the council and I received it. There was only one thing I did not like, and that was the number of functions I had to attend and the speeches I had to make."

Reginald Hayward, mayor in 1923-24, described the manner in which he had endeavored to balance the budget "after a series of spendthrift regimes."

"It was my idea," he said, "to end the year owing the bank nothing. The first year we had a balance of $45,000, and the second, $150,000. It might have been higher still, but had not been promoted to the Legislature."

ENTERTAINED PRINCE

He also spoke of the opportunity he had of serving the British fleet as co-ordinating officer during its stay here, and the privilege that was given him of entertaining the Prince of Wales when he visited Victoria.

Unemployment was touched upon by Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P. "During my term of office it was necessary for us to deal with unemployment—a condition which was imposed upon us without warning. I believed then, as I do now, that unemployment would be a cancer on the body politic forever. But when I see the conditions existing today in Alberta and in Saskatchewan, I thank God we live on the south end of Vancouver Island," he said. Mr. Anscomb was mayor in 1929, 1930 and 1931.

David Leeming, introduced as "our tourist mayor," and who served as chief magistrate in 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935 and 1936, asserted that he was not satisfied with the support merchants were giving the tourist industry. "This year it will be worth $5,000,000," he said. "You can double that figure if you care to do so."

Oak Bay Has Had Busy Season in Building Trade

BUILDING in the municipality of Oak Bay for July this year was very far in excess of what it was during the corresponding month in 1936. It was, in fact, over threefold greater for 1937. The building permits for July, 1937, represented values amounting to $51,900. For the same month of 1936, the total value was $14,320. The building for the year to date is also very far in lead of the year 1936. At the end of the first seven months of this year, the total building permits amounted to $241,981 in value, as compared with $178,692 for the same seven months of 1936.

Ex-Mayors J. Carl Pendray and A. J. Morley sent expressions of regret at their inability to be present. Before the speakers were heard, George I. Warren, secretary of the Chamber, read minutes from the Chamber of Commerce meeting of March 6, 1935, when the organization was active to have Victoria continued as a free trade port.

Speakers were thanked by Duncan MacBride, vice-president.

Governor-General at Aklavik After Fast Run by River Ship

Lord Tweedsmuir Meets Interesting Northern Residents—Return Trip to Be Made by Plane After Flight to Herschel Island

AKLAVIK, N.W.T., Aug. 2 (Delayed).—Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, late tonight reached this Western Arctic capital, ending the river voyage stage of his Northern adventure by establishing an all-time speed record from Waterways.

From Aklavik, His Excellency will go to Herschel Island in the Beaver Sea by airplane. His return trip to Edmonton, approximately 1,600 miles south of Herschel, will also be made by air and will be the longest flight ever made by a Canadian Governor-General. He is expected to rejoin Lady Tweedsmuir in the Alberta capital on August 11.

Before he went ashore, the Governor-General and other passengers on the Ss. Distributor posted letters at what is believed to be the first ship's postoffice in the history of Canada.

DOUBLE PRECEDENT

The postoffice established a double precedent when Colonel R. Reid, of the Hudson's Bay Company, director of transport for the Mackenzie River division, was appointed postmaster, the first such post he has held in his life.

All members of the Viceregal party agreed the voyage aboard the Athabasca River and the Distributor, eleven days from Waterways, was the fastest time ever made by water between the Head of Steel and Aklavik, though none could recall the previous record.

His Excellency had two brief visits ashore Saturday and Sunday when he saw the Arctic Red River and Port McPherson, the latter on Peel River. At McPherson, he met eighty-four-year-old John Firth, a native of the Orkney Islands, and his half-breed wife, Firth, deaf and feeble, told the Governor-General he refused to leave the North because he had been here so long. He disliked "civilization."

TELLS EARLIER HISTORY

Later, R. W. Hale, superintendent of the postoffice department in the North, who boarded the Distributor Saturday from a plane, told His Excellency the story of Firth's previous refusal to leave the Peel River post, where he was manager for half a century. It was in 1924 when Firth told Hale:

"I went out once to Winnipeg. It was in 1908 and I stood on Portage Avenue watching the people rush here and there. Everyone seemed in a terrible hurry, chasing another dollar. I had three months' furlough but I had to come back in one. It was too monotonous."

The Governor-General saw the graves of five heroes of the North, Father Louis Côté, French oblate missionary, showed him the grave wherein lies the body of Father Lecuyer, a missionary, who was drowned in 1925 after twenty-five years' service among the Indians of the Arctic Red River. His grave is among those of some Indians, over which stand crosses bearing inscriptions in phonetic shorthand.

GRAVES OF BRAVE MEN

At Port McPherson, His Excellency visited the little Anglican cemetery and saw graves of four men, members of the Royal North-West Mounted Police, United States-Dawson patrol, who, after being lost in the mountains, started to back trail, led by Inspector Fitzgerald, and died one by one of exhaustion and hunger after eating their dogs. Later, the bodies were found by a search party and taken to Port McPherson for burial.

Lord Tweedsmuir was greeted at the Arctic Red River post by the howling of fifty-five dogs as the Distributor tied up at the bank. He went ashore, meeting traders and Mounties and Andre Negon, chief of the Arrand Loucheux, who appeared uniformed, a cross between a sea captain and a police officer. He wore a wide leather belt around his tunic.

As the Distributor, whistling while rounding a bend in the river, came in sight all the dogs in the village set up howling, which lasted more than an hour. Indians, clad in bright garments, the women in bright shawls and carrying babies on their backs, sat on the bank, watching the official party as it came ashore.

The Governor-General saw at close quarters racks of drying fish, placed on poles to keep it away from the many dogs of the community.

EXCHANGE OF GIFTS

Sunday evening, Father Côté went aboard the ship and gave His Excellency a fine pair of beaded moccasins and in return Lord Tweedsmuir gave the missionary an autographed copy of his book "Green Mantle."

The ship put ashore a small family Sunday. Harry Ambrose, his wife and five-year-old daughter, Irene, who was born at Moose Factory on the shores of James Bay, Ambrose's school days were spent at Banchoy, Scotland, near Aberdeen. A former Aberdeen grocer, he entered the Hudson's Bay Company service in 1923, leaving his sweetheart with the understanding he would return if he made good in the North, and marry her. He did and today, only thirty-five years old, he is manager of the Port McPherson post.

Going ashore, Irene carried two canaries, named Ginger and Dickie, which will make their home more than 150 miles north of the Arctic Circle.

The Viceregal party arrived here five days ahead of schedule, and today was spent in resting pending the arrival of Royal Canadian Air Force planes.

Nine Killed in Italian Airplane Crash in Egypt

WADI HALFA, Egyptian Sudan, Aug. 2 (AP).—Nine passengers and members of the crew of a southbound Italian commercial plane were killed today when the plane crashed near the Wadi Halfa airground.

The crew of five and four passengers were believed all to be Italian. Witnesses said that when the plane was about to land the pilot speeded up the engine, apparently deciding he could not make a safe landing at the moment.

RETURNING TO ENGLAND

ROME, Aug. 2 (AP).—Italian newspaper correspondent, withdrawn from London before the Coronation, started back to England today to resume work. They were called home because of British press comment on the defeat of Italian volunteers serving with the Spanish Insurgent forces.

GOLD DREDGE Leaps the Jungle!

CANADIAN NICKEL USED IN NEW GUINEA... PROVIDES EMPLOYMENT FOR CANADIANS...

LIKE a great dragonfly the tri-motored freight plane dromes above the New Guinea jungle. Far inland gold has been discovered. To build a railroad across jungle and mountain ranges is out of the question. So piece by piece the transports of the air carry the equipment inland—two 1200 ton dredges, a hydro-electric plant, machine shop, boilers, compressors, steam engines, sawmills, tractors—4000 tons of equipment in all. A 6900-pound Nickel steel tumbler shaft is carried in a single load.

Nickel alloy steels were specified for the vital parts of this equipment because of their greater strength even with considerable reduction in weight—a distinct advantage when air transportation must be used.

Wherever the wheels of peace-time industry revolve, Canadian Nickel is in demand. With the help of Nickel, men in all parts of the world are flinging bridges across rivers, piercing the jungle, spanning the desert, invading the Arctic. For Nickel when alloyed with steel, cast iron, bronze and other metals, increases strength, resists abrasion, lessens corrosion.

And still the search for new uses for Nickel continues. The increased sale of Canadian Nickel to world industry brings more money to Canada, and provides employment for more Canadians not only in the Nickel industry but in industry in general throughout the Dominion.

THE NICKEL INDUSTRY comes to the assistance of the Canadian housewife, too. Those beautiful Monel sinks are two-thirds Canadian Nickel, one-third Canadian copper. You'll want one not only for the charm of its silvery, sanitary surface, but because it's so genuinely practical. Monel can't rust, and no other sink will withstand the corrosive attacks of food acids as well as Monel. You'll find less noise, less chipping of dishes with a Monel Sink. PLANNING HEALTH INSURANCE

Now that the Provincial Government is considering anew the subject of Health Insurance, it is timely to suggest again that legislation dealing with the matter will make the scheme optional. The plebiscite on this insurance held in connection with the late provincial election was answered in the affirmative, but the opposition that developed was substantial, representing over 40 per cent of those who voted. Moreover, it should be borne in mind that the people did not know if they were voting on a compulsory or an optional scheme; they knew nothing of the terms on which the proposed legislation will be based. To some extent they were voting blindly. The Government at the time it put the plebiscite before the voters obviously had no details in view, because now a sub-committee of the Cabinet has been appointed to frame a plan.

The scheme already incorporated in legislation which was passed in the dying hours of a session of the Legislature was immature, non-actuarial, and it was found it could not be put into effect because of the announced opposition of the medical profession. The doctors have not refused to co-operate in a health insurance scheme; they will act in conjunction with state medicine to the extent that it can be made practical. It is wholly probable, however, that the doctors would regard an optional scheme as better designed for testing such social legislation. The Government has no specific mandate to put a compulsory plan into operation. If it considers it has, it will have to include a large proportion of those who recorded their opposition to health insurance of any sort; in other words, it will be antagonizing the wishes of a very substantial minority. It can meet the wishes both of those who favor and those who oppose health insurance by making it optional to anyone to come within its aegis. That would be the better way, and for that reason there is some consolation in the fact that the whole subject is being considered anew and that so-called experts, who are obsessed with the idea of compulsion, are not taking part in the talks on the subject.

Any social legislation designed for human betterment should have the overwhelming support of the people as a whole, for to make it effective wholesale co-operation is desirable. Large sections of any community should never be dragged into schemes to which they are opposed. Moreover, the success of any health insurance plan is contingent on the enthusiasm that can be brought to bear on its operation by the medical profession. It is the doctors, more than anyone else, who know what there is to be known about sickness and its incidence. It is the medical profession that should be consulted on whether a compulsory or an optional scheme would be the better for British Columbia, because of the distribution of population and other factors which enter into the situation. It is for the Government to make sure that it does not get off to another false start in this experimental legislation. By following the advice of social experts, who know little or nothing about health matters, it made a hash of the Act now on the statute books. It has to bring about the repeal of that legislation and devise an entirely new Act. The forthcoming legislation should be devised on an optional basis, at least until it has been proved as a factor in health betterment.

There will be some who take pains to examine the trend of latter-day government who will not be disposed to agree altogether with Lord Halifax, who says that "though in many directions we have traveled far on the road of extending State activities, we have simultaneously been according recognition to the claims of individual personality." Many are persuaded that the more the State attempts, through social legislation, to ameliorate the lot of certain sections of the people, there is a definite loss of the individuality which hitherto has been a principle of democratic government. Lord Halifax says that through inherited characteristics and the "mobility" of the age, government has come to be regarded as the instrument to secure conditions favorable to the fullest development of the personality. Once that conception prevailed, a community could retain in its own hands the judgment on questions of its own government. On the other hand, where people disembarrassed themselves of the necessity of forming opinions by entrusting plenipotentiary power to other hands, the human personality becomes dwarfed and fails to find expression.

Today there are dangers in democracy, and Lord Halifax outlines some of them. It has to distinguish the genuine from the counterfeit in the waves submitted for its approval. It has to supply a corrective to the weakness of politicians. It has to resist the temptation to take too much of its thinking ready-made from others. A striking danger to which Lord Halifax alludes is the fact that the world is the victim of "subtle and ceaseless propaganda—sneering, exaggerating, distorting, and atmospheres are all the time being created that are subversive of rational thought. He says the Press and the radio have a heavy responsibility in emphasizing to the general body of citizens their duty to search out for themselves the matters on which it is the function of citizenship to form opinions and record verdicts. Lord Halifax believes that it is to the credit of the British constitution, or character, or both, that public service is still regarded as the most honorable occupation to which men and women can devote their energies. It is because of this that it is possible to strike a just balance between the claims of the individual and those of the State to which he owes allegiance. In British lands the example of other countries has not been followed in making the State become an end in itself, such as is intended by Socialism. In other words, loyalty to the State does not involve denial of loyalty to one's own conscience. Lord Halifax says: "A State which stamps all its citizens into a common mould and seeks to unify what nature has so wonderfully made diverse may gain whatever advantage there may be in singleness of aim in politics; but it assuredly would be the poorer by the loss of that variety of life which the State, jealous in guarding the individuality of its citizens, has to offer." The point which Lord Halifax avoids allusion to is the amount of State regimentation that goes on today in democracies. He was dealing specifically with Great Britain and the Empire as a whole in an address before the Association for Education in Citizenship, and yet in that aggregation of nations democracy is being newly interpreted today and there is a certain loss in the expression of the powers of individuality. The fact is that the more the State does in the way of social legislation, the more apocryphal the people grow as to the power of Government to produce happiness by legislation, or by administration. Bentham once defined the purpose of Government as being "the greatest happiness of the greatest number." Lord Halifax himself admits that such a definition seems to pay insufficient regard to the claims of the individual and the rights of minorities. It is a matter for democracy, as well as the totalitarian State, to examine to what extent it will bring about uncomfortable reactions by indulging too much in the process of regimentation.

EARTH'S ENVELOPE

At one time it was supposed that the atmospheric envelope of the earth did not extend for more than eighty miles. Now Professor E. V. Appleton, of Cambridge, says ideas about the height to which the air rises must be revised. The higher atmosphere, he says, is very hot indeed, or else it is composed of a light gas such as helium. The air pressure at the height of 200 miles above the earth is a thousand times greater than had been previously supposed. The development of radio is adding to the knowledge of atmospheric conditions and of atmospheric disturbances caused by bright eruptions on sunspots. They cause radio fade-outs. Radio has led almost every observatory to scan the sun's disk in search of eruptions, and it has, as well, taught scientists more about the earth's atmospheric layer, though a great deal remains to be discovered, especially relating to the composition of the envelope at heights still far beyond the reach of man.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

PROOF TO MR. SWAYNE

Victoria's Golden Jubilee is turning out a distinguished success. In the middle of a round of well-nigh continuous activities, Mayor Andrew McAvay found time to pen a message of goodwill which summed up the meaning of the festivities very happily, in words that will bear repeating. Said His Worship: "Although seventy-five years is a very short period in history, it is a little more than the normal span of human life. Citizens of 1862 who are still with us will be able to appreciate better than others the development of Victoria from a trading post to a beautiful city, with all modern facilities and a seaport from which our products are carried to the nations of the world. "Our city may not be all that some would have it be, and may not be all it could be, but with each citizen making a contribution to the common good, Victoria can be a city not alone famous for its wonderful climate and scenic beauty, but for the spirit of citizenship which is the principal asset of any community—the hallmark of real value."

"We can take pride in our years of progress, and honor those old pioneers who built a city which, for its magnificent approach, its beauty of parks and boulevards, its wide, clean streets, and the services given its citizens, ranks second to none. I hope that the foundations already laid will always carry a city beautiful, a city of homes, a city wherein our children may live in peace, happiness and contentment."

That was well said! It points the way for all citizens, who, besides carrying their own fortunes in their hands, have between them the fortunes of the community in their care. One likes to think, too, that the spirit of citizenship referred to by His Worship will itself become revitalized and enriched by opportunities now given for comparison with the growth of the past. From hand-craft fire engines to the most effective fire-prevention force possible; from traveling fresh water casks to the purest and best water supply system in Canada; from a handful of four-story buildings beside a stockade to one of the most beautiful capitals in the Dominion is a definite, tangible measure of progress. It is hard to realize that Victoria is in fact pioneering still, and that the next seventy-five years will see changes as great, improvements as numerous in their scope and meaning, and growth as phenomenal as have occurred in that period between 1862 and 1937, now being commemorated. Brains and brawn, bricks and mortar, lumber and steel build a city; but, eternally, it is spirit that keeps it alive. So His Worship's words were timely; and if Mayor Harris, the first chief magistrate of Victoria, were here today, he would be the first to applaud. In truth, Victoria is not alone a City-with-a-Past; it is a City-with-a-Future, a future as vigorous, bright and prosperous as the rekindled spirit of citizenship may achieve.

He would be a bold man who would predict for certain what changes will take place in Victoria in the next seventy-five years. Trends only may we see, and those but in the light of the past. The distance into the future, Victoria, settled by water, may find her new growth by way of the same medium; from trade and commerce on a Pacific Ocean that is only beginning to respond to the awakened commerce of the world, which the Atlantic has enjoyed for a hundred years, and you have some reason to picture ships, and docks, and dollars engaged in business across that ocean. Picture man's new-found ocean, the air, with the annihilation of distances between the old world and new, between East and West, between the Atlantic and the Pacific, between the Arctic and the Gulf of Mexico. Strange indeed if contact with the largest and most universal medium of intercourse, the skyway, does not bring trade! Picture a Canada welded tighter and made one by faster communications and greater understanding; with British Columbia no longer a frontier land beyond the "Sea of Mountains," but a vital link in the Empire's chain of nations. Fresh trade will flow from the coast, and the heart of the continent, by picturing the next commercial invention comparatively as far beyond flying as flying was beyond motoring. Then take in a good deep breath and remember that half of man's trouble and misery that hope and faith in the future will solve problems ten times as hard as any yet invented. In short, picture the Victoria of your fond dreams and still you will fall short of what this city may well be seventy-five years hence—in the year 2012 A.D.

Interesting Exhibit

If there was a single vase exhibit that attracted more attention at the Summer Show of the Victoria Horticultural Society last week, than any other, it was the much debated lily-glad shown in the display of Arrowsmith and Son, Saanichton. The grower, Mr. Arrowsmith, claims that he obtained the flower, which has an attractive pink blossom much like that of a lily, growing on a plant very similar to the ordinary gladiolus, by crossing a lily and a gladiolus. Some local authorities are of the opinion that the cross is an impossible one, but seeing seems to be believing, and it looks like the new plant will become popular among growers here and elsewhere, as it becomes better known. Yes, Victoria's horticulturists are doing their part to help keep the city on the map. Last year, you remember, the big find made was the lovely Shirley Temple Dan. Victoria's climate is probably unequalled where matters of flower growing are concerned, and we take a bow to those experimenters in the district who are every year finding many new and beautiful varieties.

Out of Place

Saturday's circus-acting during the softball games between Bremerton and local nines at the Royal Athletic Park is just the type of thing that will sound the death knell for a sport which is now popular in this city. Bremerton, really a smart ball club and capable of taking the Laundry and Bruins anytime and with a little effort, threw in a little circus clowning and literally gave the locals the runs they scored. The place for circus is in the stadium or on the stage, certainly not on a ball diamond. Mr. and Mrs. John Phan lay their tough-ray-me on the line to see softball. If they want comedy they will walk up to the theatre box office, lay down their money and see it. If Victoria is going to have exhibition softball games and we feel certain the fans really want them, we think it would be much better for all concerned to play ball. Leave the clowning to the boys who get paid for it in the "Big Ring" and give the ball fans ball.—S.T.

Glancing Over Sport

Steady shooting Sandy Somerville is rapidly after the record of George S. Lyon when it comes to winning the Canadian amateur golf title. Saturday "Silent Sandy," as he is known on the golf links of Canada and the United States, picked up his sixth national crown by defeating Phil Parley in the final, 2 and 1. Lyon, who recently celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday, ruled the links long before Somerville was born and based his eight championship victories. Sandy should equal the record of not surpassing it, before he quits competitive golf.

The way the situation now stands, it appears that the Yanks and Cubs will be in the annual Fall classic baseball play-off. It will take some mighty heavy hitting and fine pitching to dislodge them when the races are all over.

Canadian tennis is still at a low ebb when a San Francisco player can travel all the way to Toronto and win it off with the singles crown. It marked the third straight year that the Dominion title has drifted across the border. And the players who won them are well down the list of United States rankings. It's the same old story. If you don't get the competition, you cannot stand up in the face of faster company. Based on ball returns to Victoria again this week with Wenatchee and Vancouver of the new propele dish up the goods. Support these to bring back the third star to the city in some shape or form.—J.D.

Their Native Land

You may add to this week's most insane sayings the remark of an individual, who after watching visiting Shriners parade in all their glory, commented: "There must be a Shrine convention in town."

The debate on the street corner continues apace. Two Ratepayers' Association and another local organization have advocated this change to the British system. It is hoped the matter will be dealt with at the next meeting of the Council of B.C. Municipalities.

CIVIC INTEREST RATES

The Province newspaper, dated July 21, 1937, column 7, page 20, under head of "Montreal's Interest, Lowest in Dominion," says: "Montreal's average rate of interest, lowest in Dominion," continuing says: "Montreal's average rate of interest over the whole consolidated debt is 4.48 per cent." Victoria, 4.74 per cent.

This, like many other newspaper statements is very superficial. Let us examine one, out of 79 Victoria City bonds, dated 1911, for waterworks. HOW COUNCIL REDUCED PROPERTY TAXES

Sir,—I am directed by the City Council to correct the misinformation contained in a letter over the signature of Mr. John Dean appearing in The Times issue of 24th inst. Mr. Dean points out that, while the tax rate has been reduced from 45 to 43 1/2 mills, the percentage of improvements levied against has been raised from 60 to 65, resulting in a net increase in taxation of $32,091.87.

The percentage of improvements has increased in 1936, not 1937. In 1937 the rate was reduced from 45 to 43 1/2 mills, but in addition the assessment of land was reduced, on an average, about 5%, so that the reduction in taxation was more than merely 1 1/2 mills.

The tax levy for 1937 was $1,568,768.96, while for 1936 it was $1,688,953.30, a reduction from last year of $120,184.24, instead of an increase of $32,091.87, according to Mr. Dean.

"NEWS-WEEK ON THE AIR"

No other person has authority to make statements for "News-Week on the Air," and the undersigned, as the regular commercial agent of CPCT, is the only person authorized to transact business for this programme. MUNICIPAL ASSESSMENT

Sir,—May I be permitted to quote a short extract from The Winnipeg Civic News, published by the ratepayers, whose membership is 7,000, dealing with a change in land taxation.

"Our present system of municipal assessment is not British. It is a system borrowed from the American practice in the days of the ox cart, the Negro slave and the log cabin. "In the British system, which prevails in the Mother Country, in Australia and elsewhere, there has been no municipal default, there is marked activity in the building trades, and there is no such thing as a tax sale. The reason is simple. The tax in respect of land is imposed on the occupant. Lands occupied and for which the community has no present use are not a burden on the ability to the owners. And the determining factor in liability to taxation is the revenue-producing power of land—to wit, its annual value. There is thus a wider spread consciousness of public liability. The system of public default, which is with us a crying scandal, and a running sore, about which so many politicians say much, and public men do nothing really constructive, is not under the British method of taxation—a public charity at the expense of the few, but a burden of which the many are conscious."

May I mention, Sir, that our Ratepayers' Association and another local organization have advocated this change to the British system. It is hoped the matter will be dealt with at the next meeting of the Council of B.C. Municipalities.

STARS LIKE SUN SAYS SCIENTIST

Dr. R. M. Petrie Addresses Summer Study Group of Astronomical Society

With his many interesting answers to the question: "What Is a Star?" the title chosen for his talk to the Summer Study Club of the Victoria Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Dr. R.
M. Petrie, of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory staff here, responded to the question of what they viewed later through the telescopes set up on the terrace for observation purposes.

A general discussion of the astro-nomer's idea of a star was first given by Dr. Petrie, who used about eight actual photographs of star clusters as well as helpful tables and diagrams. Stars, he noted, were similar to the sun. In other words, the sun was a typical star in respect of size, temperature, mass and general surface conditions.

UNIMAGINABLE NUMBER

The number of stars was almost unimaginable. Although with the naked eye only about 6,000 could be seen, the telescope had brought to our knowledge an infinite multiplication of this number, now estimated at about forty billion in our universe. And as telescopes increased in size and power, still more would become visible.

The nearest star was Proxima, a little more than four light years distant. A light year is twenty million million miles.

In that part of his talk devoted to the motions of stars, Dr. Petrie said that there was great variation both in motion and speed. Some were approaching the earth, others were receding. The average speed was about twenty miles per second.

Using the sun as a unit of brightness, it was shown that there was great range of brightness in stars, the faintest stars being about one-tenth as bright as the sun, others having brightness equivalent to 25-000 suns such as ours.

INTERNAL CONDITIONS

Stars have enormously high temperatures, at the surface about 5,000 degrees and increasing at the centre to about forty million degrees. Very high pressures were found in combination with these temperatures.

Among the stars specially mentioned by the lecturer were Sirius, which appears in the heavens as the brightest of the stars, and Antares, which is the largest star, four hundred million miles in diameter.

After Dr. Petrie's lecture, the audience went out on the terrace for some outdoor study under the direction of Robert Peters. Among the heavenly bodies specially studied through the telescopes were Jupiter with its satellites, Mars and one of the double stars.

further Anglo-Italian negotiations and may have made possible a new four-power pact to replace the defunct Locarno Treaty.

Better feeling was enhanced also by an announcement that Italian newspapers, withdrawn from London before the coronation of King George VI, would return. Rome boycotted British news because of British papers criticized the fighting qualities of Italian troops in Spain.

monthly meeting of the British Columbia Provincial Rabbit Breeders' Association will be postponed from ceeds Harry Langley, who resigned.

To Make Alterations—W. H. Stevens yesterday received permission from the city building inspector's office to make alterations to a dwelling at 1530 Slater Street by day labor. The proposed work will cost approximately $500.

Studio Entered—Gilbert Gibson reported to police at 7.15 o'clock Sunday evening that he found the door of Gibson's Studio open at 748 Port Street. A search revealed nothing missing.

Meeting Postponed—The meeting scheduled for Wednesday night of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council has been postponed until a later date. It has been called off, due to Wednesday being a holiday.

Premises Entered—Prowlers who entered the basement of Stevenson's Confectionery, 725 Yates Street, over the week-end stole a quantity of candy and canned goods. The canned goods were later found in a yard at the rear of the store.

Made Health Officer—Dr. J. C.
Poole, of Fraser Lake, was appointed by the Provincial Government yesterday as medical health officer and school health inspector for eight school areas at Fraser Lake and resigned.

Official Visit Here—Noel J. Ogil-

his return trip.

Property Stolen—J. E. Barrett, 3217 Irma Street, informed police yesterday that four leaded lines, two ordinary lines, 250 pounds of fishing draw knife, valued at $150, had been stolen from his boat, Delta B, tied up near Point Elliot bridge.

Support Given—The Esquimalt
Municipal Council, at its meeting last evening, expressed its sympathy with the aims and objects of the Society for the Preservation of Native Flowers of British Columbia, following the receipt of a communication from that group seeking support in protecting wild plants.

Indian Had Liquor—Lloyd James, an Indian, was in the city police court yesterday charged with having liquor in his possession. He pleaded guilty, but wanted to be given his liberty to continue work in a cannery. The statute makes no allowance for any dodging of the penalty, and he was fined $25, or seven days in jail.

Three Fires—A chimney fire at 3027 Jackson Street called out the fire department at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. A call was received to a grass fire in Beacon Hill Park near Horseshoe Bay, at 2.20 o'clock.
At 9.45 o'clock in the evening the department was summoned to a grass fire at the corner of Dallas Road and Menzies Street.

Boy Injured—Melville Brown, nine, 2209 Douglas Street, was taken to the Jubilee Hospital by Constables
P. W. Richards and Thomas Bannister at 11.45 o'clock yesterday morning to be treated for cuts and abrasions sustained when he fell from a swing in Central Park. He was attended by Dr. Hermann M.
Robertson.

Wording Is Varied—Authority under which the province may transfer prisoners from Okanagan to provincial mental hospitals and hold them there while of unsound mind was reworded by Provincial Order-in-Council yesterday, leaving discretionary powers to the Provincial Secretary as to the release of the patients after the expiry of their sentences, if cured.

Searchlight Puzzled Many—While many Victoria residents believed the blaze of light in the sky about 10.30 yesterday evening was the Aurora Borealis, W. A. Thorne, of the Meteorological Observatory, declared yesterday that the illumination was caused by the searchlight of a ship in the Straits. The position of the light was contrary to that of the Aurora. Its intensity was caused by the large amount of water vapor in the atmosphere.

Logger Is Killed—Carl Ludvigson, engaged in logging operations at the Lakes Logging Company, Rounds, B.C., was killed yesterday morning in an accident there, according to brief advices to the Is-

Building Figures Gain—An encouraging gain of $6,476 during the month of July, as compared with the same period last year, was shown by figures on building permits issued from the building inspector's office at the City Hall yesterday. In July, 1936, permits were issued for work of a total value of $24,564, compared with $31,040 for

Elisabeth Bergner Stars in Absorbing Triangle-Drama Showing Here Today

Elisabeth Bergner comes to the Dominion Theatre today in "Dreaming Lips," an absorbing triangle drama which is said to mirror the heart of a woman in love as no film has done before.

Raymond Massey and Romney
Brent play the lover and husband, respectively, in this English version of the actresses' greatest foreign film success, adapted from the Henri Bernstein stage play, "Melo."

"Dreaming Lips," which Paul Czinnir, Bergner's distinguished director-husband, directed from a script by Carl Meyer, tells the moving story of Gaby, adorable, childlike wife of Peter, a young London musician, played by Brent.

CAPITOL John Howard and Ron-THEATRE ad Colman, kidnap victims of one of the strangest odysseys ever conceived, find escape bodeyed by native bayonets in Columbia's "Lost Horizon," now at the Capitol Theatre. Jane Wyatt has the feminine lead in this magnificent production which was directed by Frank Capra.

COLUMBIA A complete departure THEATRE from usual theatre entertainment is presented at the Columbia Theatre today in "Sins of Love," an educational film which has played to capacity audiences in Vancouver for the last two weeks. The picture is for adults only, and no one under twenty years of age will be admitted. The management has arranged to have four trained nurses in attendance at the performances.

ATLAS Jessie Matthews is back at the Atlas Theatre and this time it's "Head Over Heels in Love" with the star in a mischievous kiss-chicuous mood, dancing, singing, charming her way into your heart.

OAK BAY The screen's perfect
THEATRE sweetheart, Robert Taylor and lovely Loretta Young, are starred together in "Private Number," the Fox picture showing for the last time at the Oak Bay theatre tonight, with a noteworthy cast, including Patry Kelly, Basil Rathbone and Marjorie Gate-son.

DOMESTIC EXPENDITURE

Naval Men Entertained At Government House

Masques of gorgeous hothouse and garden blooms, artistically arranged, enhanced the beauty of the setting for the "at home" held by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber at Government House yesterday afternoon in compliment to Commodore H. H. Harwood, O.B.E., and wardroom and gunroom officers of H.M.S. Exeter.

With Her Excellency Lady Tweedsmuir, who wore a charming afternoon dress of black lace with touches of pale blue, His Honor and Mrs. Hamber, the latter wearing a graceful frock of royal blue marquisette with bouffant sleeves and the skirt shirred at the waistline behind to form fullness for a short train, received in the drawing-room, the aides being Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, Major M. W. Turner, Major V. McKenna, Lieutenant-Commander P. R. W. R. Gow and Captain N. Van der Vliet, Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn announcing the guests.

Over 300 invitations had been issued for the affair, the guest list including officers of H.M.S. Exeter, of the Canadian ships, the Naval Barracks and of the permanent and non-permanent military forces, civic dignitaries and a few others.

From the drawing-room, where great bowls of mums and coral phlox, blue and pink larkspur, pale coral gladioli, sweet peas in pastel shades and snapdragons of sunset-glow colorings were placed to great advantage, the guests passed into the ballroom. This recently redecorated and remodelled to admit more light from the sunroom, was decked with gladioli in different shades of pink, palms and fuchsias being set along the front of the platform where the five-piece orchestra was encoined. Iced drinks were served from a buffet at the north end of the room, and tea was served in the dining-room, the table centred with a big silver bowl filled with yellow and bronze snapdragons and lighted by yellow candles in silver candelabra. The big reception hall had a lovely arrangement of begonias, fuchsias and Shasta daisies.

PIONEERS MEET AS GUESTS OF VICTORIA

Robert Plim Butchart, created a freeman of the city of Victoria years ago for the magnificent contribution to the life and welfare of the world-famous Butchart's Gardens developed by himself and by Mrs. R. P. Butchart, spoke briefly as honored guest. He congratulated the city on a substantial measure of progress and expressed pleasure at being present to do honor to its surviving pioneers.

IS BROADCAST

In a thirty-minute broadcast preceding the dinner, two Victoria boys put Victoria's birthday on the air. William J. Herbert formerly of the Colonist editorial staff, marshalled a nicely-balanced broadcast for the main network of the C.B.C. across Canada, marking Victoria's jubilee. Edward J. Fox of The Times editorial staff, sketched the history of the community from its settlement ninety-four years ago as a Hudson's Bay post to present days.

The band of H.M.S. Exeter opened the broadcast with a medley of lively airs, and Victoria's own Arion Club, under F. J. Sehl, contributed four excellent choral numbers, including "The Crosses War Song," "A Prayer of Thanksgiving," "Winter Song" and the lively "Soldiers' Chorus" from "Faust."

Two pioneers went "on the air" across Canada. John Colford, born here in 1862, told a rollicking story of boys, including himself, who helped to capture a pioneer bootlegger who was making trouble among the Indians, a serious matter in those days. J. J. Bland, eighty, said as a boy of five he witnessed the handing over of the city's charter to Mayor Thomas Harris, who was a strapping big man, weighing 300 pounds, and told of early days at Esquimalt when it was a Royal naval base.

the Japanese army's operations far afield, well down the Peking-Hankow and Tientsin-Pukow Railways—along which Chinese armies have been reported moving northward—as well as to the northwest.

BOMB CONCENTRATIONS

Along the Peking-Hankow line Japanese officers said their planes had bombed concentrations at Paotingfu, eighty-five miles southwest of Peiping, several times during the past two days. They said their infantry was thirty-five miles below Peiping.

Down the Tientsin-Pukow line—Nanking's direct link with the north—Japanese planes pushed scouting flights as far as Tsinanfu, capital of Shantung province, and 200 miles in a direct line south of Tientsin.

Japan poured more troops into conquered North Hopei province and gave evidence of plans for organizing that district as a permanent base for possible further military expansion.

The reinforcements came down from Manchukuo, by railway, truck and afoot. Japanese troop movements monopolized what railroad facilities had been restored in the Peiping-Tientsin area.

DISARM BRIGADE

North of Peiping the Japanese said they had disarmed the Chinese (about $121,800,000) in appropri-39th Brigade of 3,000 men and taken large quantities of arms and munitions.

The Japanese army's political organizers reported considerable success in their efforts to set up new Chinese-staffed but Japanese-controlled administrations in conquered North Hopei. "Peace maintenance committees" were functioning here and in Peiping.

MARSHALLING RESOURCES

TOKIO, Aug. 2 (P)—Japan adopted drastic measures today to marshal her economic resources and to finance prolonged hostilities in China if necessary.

The Government acted to enrich its war treasury by 500,000,000 yen (about $150,000,000) or more through new levies and anti-profiteering legislation.

A new law lifted the ban on foreign ships engaging in trade between Japanese ports. Authoritative sources said one purpose of this was to release all possible Japanese tonnage from coastal traffic for war shipments to China and for the importation of vital commodities.

LARGE APPROPRIATIONS

Efforts were hastened to win legislative approval of 400,000,000 yen (about $121,800,000) in appropri-

Changes in the army command, announced after a conference between Emperor Hirohito and the Premier, Prince Fumimaro Konoye, showed four out of five officers promoted to divisional commands were veterans of China campaigns. Army command changes are announced each year about August 1.

The Emperor and Premier were understood to have discussed measures to meet the steadily mounting Chinese strength in the Hopei-Chahar area, estimated now at 250,000 troops.

"Some fifteen commercial uses have been discovered for the walnut shell." Probably none, however, will be as profitable as the old army game.

Wedding at Chemainus Big Affair

St. Michael's and All Angels' Church, Chemainus, with its beautiful floral setting of pink and yellow gladioli, sweet peas and blue scabiosa, made a charming background for the wedding of Coralie Langland, second daughter, of Mrs. M. L. Fraser, and Mr. Godfrey George Lomas, Chemainus, fourth son of Mrs. A. D. Lomas and the late Colonel Lomas, F.S.I., of Liverpool, which took place on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, with Rev. E. O. Robathan, of Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, officiating.

Mr. D. Nicholls, Victoria, an old family friend, gave the bride in marriage and she looked lovely in a Victorian gown of white satin en train. The frock was fashioned with a high collar and leg-of-mutton sleeves. Her wedding veil was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of bridal roses and carnations.

BRIDE'S ATTENDANTS
Mrs. P. Lomas, as matron of honor, was gowned in floral triple sheer georgette in shades of yellow and green and hat to match. She carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli. The two bridesmaids, Miss Kathleen Porter, Albert Bay, and Miss Dorothy Fraser, and the train bearer, Miss Vera Fraser, were gowned alike in smart redingotes made of net with bands of satin ribbon over taffeta and wore picture hats with plaited ribbon crowns. They chose colors of gold, blue and pink, respectively. The bridesmaids' bouquets were gladioli in shades of gold, lemon and pink, and the train bearer carried pink roses.

Mr. Phillip Lomas supported his brother as best man and the usher was Mr. L. Humphrey. The wedding music was played by Mrs. C. R. Jarrett, and during the signing of the register, Mrs. L. G. Saunders sang "At Dawning."

RECEIVE IN GARDEN
A reception was held in the garden at "Sunnyside," the home of the bride's mother. Assisting in receiving the guests were Mrs. M. L. Fraser, who wore a navy blue georgette frock and large black hat, and the groom's mother, Mrs. A. D. Lomas, who came from Liverpool for the wedding. Mrs. Lomas wore a smart gown of pink and brown floral georgette and a large brown hat.

The wedding table was set outside on the lawn and was arranged with a mass of sweet peas and summer blooms in shades of blue, pink and yellow, and was centered with the three-tier wedding cake. Mrs. Pullon and Mrs. W. J. Porter poured tea and coffee, and serving the guests were Misses Irene Fraser, C. Halling, Peggy Beadnell, Violet Fraser, and M. E. Stewart.

For traveling, the bride chose a smart navy blue silk costume with printed nosegays in colors of yellow and green, and navy jacket and navy turban with veil and accessories to match. She carried a green topcoat. The happy couple left by motor for Vancouver, en route to California and the Southern States. On their return, they will make their home in Chemainus.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Creighton and Miss Neil Blythe, Duncan; Mr. and Mrs. Hulme, Calgary; Mrs. S. Gulton, Mrs. Ballen, Mrs. H. J. Wood, the Misses K. and V. Porter, and the Misses M. and E. Stewart, Victoria, and Miss L. Porter, Ladysmith.

Leave for Shawnigan
Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown, 50 Beach Drive, have gone to Shawnigan Lake for the month of August.

Mary, aged seven, was late home from school. Moreover, keen disappointment was written plainly on her face.

"Why, darling," exclaimed her anxious mother, "What kept you so late?"

"Mummy, a horse got sick and fell down on the street, and they went off for the horse doctor, and I waited to have a look at him."

"And did he come dead?" queried mother.

"Yes," replied Mary disappointedly, "and he was only a man."

Hein: "I'm terribly afraid the ring Sandy is giving me will be the wrong fit."

"Maud—Isn't he buying one to fit the size of your finger?"

"No, to fit the size of his purse."

A SMALL CAN, PLEASE
The family were discussing fancy dress, and the small son said he would like to be a milkman.

Mother: "You're small for a milkman."

Small son: "But couldn't I go as a milkman?"

Dance Given By Club From H.M.S. Exeter

Two hundred invitations were issued for the dance given last night by the Chief and Petty Officers' Social Club of H.M.S. Exeter in the Torpedo Building, R.C.N. Barracks, Esquimalt. The dance was a gala affair and the rooms were decorated with flags and bunting.

One of Victoria's better-known orchestras played a programme of latest dance tunes until 1 o'clock this morning, and many old-time favorites were given as encores. A buffet supper was served in the lower hall, and summer blooms in various shades were used on the table.

The opening of the first Provincial Legislative Assembly took place on February 15, 1872.

WOMEN WHO HOLD THEIR MEN NEVER LET THEM KNOW

No matter how much your nerves tremble, your husband, because he is only a man, can never understand why you are so hard to live with one week in every month.

Too often the honeymoon experience is wrecked by the nagging tongue of a three-quarter wife. The wife who never lets her husband know by outward signs that she is a victim of periodic pain.

For three generations one woman has used another how to go "un-ill" through "Livia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." It helps Nature "show up" the system, thus bringing the discomfort from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three details of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LITIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and go "un-ill" through.

OUT AGAIN—IN AGAIN!

Everyone is familiar with the expression, "money makes money." The analogy in bridge is that tricks make tricks. In the South hand shown below there are actually five potential losers. The influence of the eight sure winners, however, is so strong that, under proper management, and aided by some good fortune, three of the losers turn into winners. The hand further demonstrates how extremely income leading can become, when every lead a player makes costs him one trick.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

SINUS INFECTION MAY CAUSE SYMPTOMS USUALLY BLAMED ON TONSILS AND ADENOIDS

It is only natural that parents who have undergone the suspense and expense of having their young child's tonsils and adenoids removed should expect immediate and complete relief of the usual symptoms: frequent colds, discharge of mucous (or pus) from the nose, mouth, breathing, snoring, sore throat, tiredness, loss of interest in work or play.

Fortunately in most cases the results are very gratifying, in some cases, however, the youngster still feels tired, has frequent colds, and may remain or become ill tempered.

What should prove of interest to parents and to physicians also, is that in a number of cases where removal of tonsils and adenoids does not remove the symptoms, the cause of these symptoms may be some infection of the sinuses—the little hollows or caverns in the bones about the nose.

Dr. James Crookes in "Archives of Disease in Childhood," published by the British Medical Association, states that any or all of the sinuses may be affected but the large sinus in the upper jaw is very frequently affected and the infection very readily discovered.

In a large series of routine operations for removal of tonsils and adenoids about 15 per cent had chronic disease of the sinuses (sinusitis).

RECORD FIELD PLAYING IN LAWN BOWLING MEET

Easy Triumphs Are Recorded as Title Net Tourney Opens

Straight-Set Victories Feature First Day's Play in B.C. Tennis Championships at Victoria Club Courts—Miss Wolfenden, Singles Champion, Advances—Heavy Schedule Today

Visiting Californian netters fired their opening guns in the British Columbia championships yesterday at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club courts, Fort Street, and when the day's play was completed they had all advanced into the next round. In all but two matches the players from the sunny South moved forward the easy way—in straight sets.

Twenty-two matches, all singles, were run off in the first day's play of the forty-sixth annual grass courts title meet, which will conclude Saturday, with the playing of the finals in all divisions. Thirty fixtures are listed on today's heavy schedule with the first players taking the courts at 11 o'clock.

Comely Virginia Wolfenden, Bay City, racquet wielder, opened her title defence with a 6-1, 6-3 triumph over Miss Barbara Duncan, young Los Angeles netter. Seeded number one in the women's draw, Miss Wolfenden will face some stiff opposition before the curtain is rung down Saturday afternoon and the 1937 champion crowned.

Miss Joan Bixler, Pomona, California, player with a steady game and a variety of strokes, disposed of Mrs. H. N. Lay, recently crowned Victoria Club titleholder, with the one-sided score of 6-1, 6-1. Mrs. J. C. I. Edwards and Mrs. S. P. Birley, home club players, were also eliminated in the first round play, while Miss Jean Campbell advanced to the next round by reason of her 6-2, 6-2 triumph over Miss Peggy MacDonald in an all-Victoria match.

LOCAL PLAYERS ADVANCE

Don Campbell and R. A. Phillips were the only local netters to survive the first round of the men's singles. Campbell defeated Basil Walker, Victoria, 6-0, 6-2, and Phillips came through with a 6-4, 6-1 triumph over S. P. Birley, another local player. Results follow:

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The A.B. Mountain—This mountain in Skagway is so called because of the letters A.B. which are formed by natural cliffs filled with snow. This led to the formation of the Arctic Brotherhood Society by William Connel, of the steamship City of Seattle, while lying in the harbor of Skagway in 1890. Its purpose was the brotherhood of Americans and Britons, and today there is a branch of the Arctic Brotherhood in every place of any size in Alaska.

Vancouver—Captain George Vancouver (1758-1798) charted the entire difficult 2,000-mile passage between Vancouver and Cook Inlet, through a perfect maze of islands, sunken rocks and other handicaps to navigation, during his expedition as master of the Discovery between 1791 and 1795. The job done was so perfect that a century and a half later modern ships making this passage still use the charts executed by Captain Vancouver.

Canadian Golf Meet at London

OTTAWA, Aug. 2 (C.P.)—The 1938 Canadian amateur golf championship will be held at the London Hunt Club, home course of C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, who won the 1937 title on Saturday.

This was decided at a meeting here of the Royal Canadian Golf Association. Site of the Canadian Open for 1938 was left over and will be decided at an executive meeting next month.

The R.C.G.A. decided to take a more active interest in formation of an inauguration of a national handicapping system whereby all provinces would be in union. At present, Ontario and Quebec have a common handicapping system.

SALMON DERBY CAPTURED BY A. WAKEMAN

Wins Joker's Cup at Annual Competition Held at Brentwood Sunday

Arriving at headquarters barely a minute before the time limit, Alfred R. Wakeman, local angler, captured top honors in the annual salmon derby at Brentwood, Sunday, held by the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association and sponsored by the Poodle Dog Cafe, with a thirty-two-pounder. His catch brought him the "Joker's" International Cup, donated by George "Joker" Patton, a handsome three-piece suit coffee set and a silver button.

Runner-up honors for the day went to George Laird, who dropped a 31½-pound salmon on the scales at the weighing-in station at the Anchorage, while R. Winter was third with a catch just a quarter pound less than Laird's. Fourth position went to none other than Harry Woolston, who captured the first competition held by the association. He landed one weighing 29½ pounds.

HEADS WOMEN
Mrs. Edith Campbell showed the way to the fair sex anglers by hooking a fine 22½-pound salmon. She was awarded a bronze button. Mrs. Frank Moore was second with an eighteen-pounder. The rowboat special event went to T. Ohamto, while Miss I. Deaking and Len Holyoak walked off with the consolation prizes.

It was estimated that close to 400 took part in the competition, including twenty-five from Port Angeles, headed by Dr. Cecil Hay, a former Victorian. Six of the visitors, fishing from Dr. Hay's new forty-foot cruiser, hauled in twenty-two fish, the best catch of the day. Bill Campbell's best reported a catch of ten.

H. R. Molchur and A. E. Nailor were the two Port Angeles members who caught bronze button fish, the former reeling in a twenty-pounder, the latter a twenty-five-pounder. E. W. Davies, Seattle, who came over with the visitors, caught a fish weighing 21½ pounds, and also got a button.

PRESENTS PRIZES
Tommy W. McPherson, first vice-president of the association, presented the prizes in the evening at the Anchorage, the wind-up of attracting a record gathering of spectators. Following the prize distribution, President Frank Moore awarded those anglers who caught button fish during the month of July, their emblems. The bronze button winners were Tommy Rickinson, 20 lbs.; Mrs. F. Tait, 22 lbs.; H. D. Cummings, 27 lbs.; Ernie Burns, 26½ lbs.; M. Lumley, 22 lbs.; Bill Scott, 28½ lbs.; W. B. Dempster, 29 lbs.; Mrs. G. Hardy, 26 lbs. The only silver button went to M. Ball with a 31½-pounder.

SIMPSON WINS PHOENIX CUP

Defeats Laurie Greenwood in Trophy Final at Macaulay Golf Club

Carding a brilliant round of 70 for the first eighteen to take a five hole lead, Jimmy Simpson won the Phoenix Cup, Sunday, at the Macaulay Point Golf Club by defeating Laurie Greenwood, the shotmaking policeman, in the scheduled thirty-six-hole final, 4 and 3. H. H. Lively won the first flight from Johnny Craig on the eighteenth green, one up, while D. W. Mills and R. O. Phillips will play the second flight final off this week.

Despite the difference in handicaps, Simpson was too "hot" for Greenwood. He brewed over the first nine holes in 33, and then shot a 37 on the back stretch in the morning to be five up at lunch time. He coasted in from there to win the afterware.

KEEN COMPETITION FEATURES OPENING OF ANNUAL TOURNEY

Two Teams in Capital City Rinks Event Come Through With Four Straight Victories—Mayor Andrew McGavin Welcomes Visitors at Beacon Hill Greens—Seattle Rink Scores Well

BY W. H. YOUNG

With ideal weather for the purpose, the tenth annual tournament of Greater Victoria Lawn Bowling Association got off to a flying start yesterday morning, and when play for the day had been completed there were only two teams in the contest for the Capital City rinks which had come through with a clean list of four victories. These were A. Marconini and H. M. Wright, of Victoria Club. Each one of these is leading his section. In Section 1, S. Baxandall, Victoria, and W. Davidson, Burnside, are tied with three wins and one loss, and in Section 2, W. C. Fyfe, C.P. Victoria, and W. H. Young are tied with a similar record.

Because of the large number of competitors, it was found necessary to dispense with the usual formal opening ceremonies. However, promptly at 9 o'clock, President W. Peddie spoke briefly and then called upon His Worship Mayor Andrew McGavin, who, in a few words, welcomed the visitors to the city, assuring them that everything possible would be done to make their stay a pleasant one.

THROWS FIRST JACK
President Peddie then threw the first "jack." His Worship the first bowl, and the great contest was on.

Announcement was made that, because of a shortage of greens to accommodate the Conrade doubles competitors in any other way, competitors will play all of their games in this competition where they are first squared. This means that on Wednesday and Thursday "A" and "B" Sections will play at Burnside; "C," "D," "E" and "F" at Victoria greens; "G" and "H" at Lake Hill, and Section "I" at Victoria West.

The many friends of the members of the rink from Seattle skipped by R. A. Mark are congratulating them upon the splendid showing they have already made, winding up the day's schedule with three wins and one loss in a section which is topped by a rink which won their four contests. Also in the same section, and with a similar standing, are D. Wotherspoon, Cedar Cottage, Vancouver, and S. Barr, C.P. Victoria.

In another section in which a rink made a clean sweep, A. F. Mitchell, Lake Hill, and R. W. Wilson, C.P. Victoria, have won three and lost one. All rinks in such a position have a very good chance of getting to the top before competition in the sections is completed.

In the evening, play in the men's singles competitions opened at Victoria, Burnside and Lake Hill greens, with the following results reported to headquarters before closing time:

HEADS FIELD IN ONTARIO RIFLE MEET

Lieut. S. Johnson Captures Feature Event in Provincial Meeting

LONG BRANCH, Ont., Aug. 2 (CP).—Western Canada showed its strength in marksmanship today as returning Bliley shots walked off with a lion's share of the honors on the second day of the Ontario Rifle Association meeting at Long Branch ranges.

Lieut. S. Johnson, bronzed Westerner from Calgary, returning from Bliley matches in England, won the rapid-fire title in the feature match of the day, the Gibson Memorial. His score of 48 was the highest for many years for this contest. In this match ten shots are fired in one minute at 300 yards.

Johnson's closest competitor was Lieut. U. Colville, of Vancouver, five points behind.

Calgary placed two more men well up in the rapid-fire contest. Serg. F. Ho Lem returned at 36 and Serg. C. Iddolls, who last year won the match with a 45, scored 37.

Rapid-fire work is not Johnson's only specialty, as he showed by leading the first stage of the match for the Lieutenant-Governor's Medal with 69 out of 70. Only an Ontario man may take the medal, but Johnson may win first prize money.

In the second stage tomorrow are three Ontario riflemen and another from Western Canada, C.S.M. H. Rusk, Ottawa, C.S.M. G. Thernillage, Toronto; Capt. J. T. Steele, Guelph, and Gunner G. Rasmussen, Victoria.

SCORES POSSIBLE

Rusk had a possible 35 over the first range of the match at 300 yards. Also with possibilities were Ho Lem, Calgary, and Serg. W. E. Morrish, Toronto. These two finished the second range of 600 yards with 67's along with three Easterners and two London, Eng., marksmen.

The second stage of the Lieutenant-Governor's match is at 900 yards.

In two tie shoot-offs the president's gold medal and the city of Hamilton silver medal for tyros went to Hamilton. Capt. H. E. Rowland won the gold medal with 24 out of 25 from Signalers R. J. Auty, Camp Borden; Robinson, London, Eng., and P. Ho Lem, Calgary.

The bankers' match over the 200 and 500-yard ranges ended in a triple tie with three contestants scoring double possibilities for scores of 70. Serg. R. Jonson, Hamilton; Capt. R. A. Kerr, Toronto, and Colville, Vancouver, will shoot off for the cup. Serg. T. A. Lensen, Calgary, placed seventh.

R.C.N. Eleven Hands H.M.S. Exeter 5 to 2 Defeat in Cup Match

Drives Home Four Goals in Second Half of Soccer Battle—Eddie DeCosta Fires Home Three Tallies—Wilf DeCosta and Ross Other Scorers

Breaking a 1-1 deadlock one minute after the change-over and firing home three additional tallies before the final whistle, Royal Canadian Navy footballers yesterday defeated H.M.S. Exeter, 5-2, in the Naval Veterans' Trophy match played at the Royal Athletic Park. In their initial clash Thursday evening, the eleven battled to a 2-2 overtime draw.

It was a great triumph for the Canadian sailors and ended a three-year reign of soccer supremacy by visiting British blue-jackets, who prior to last evening had lifted the silverware each year. H.M.S. Norfolk registered the initial triumph for the Englishmen and H.M.S. Danae and H.M.S. Apollo followed in turn.

Young Eddie DeCosta, Canadian sailor recruit, provided considerable of the scoring punch for the winners by driving home three of their five goals. Wilf DeCosta, a brother, and Alec Ross, shifty inside right, were the other scorers. Warder, playing outside left for the visitors, tallied in the initial stanza, and Langmead added H.M.S. Exeter's final goal from a penalty kick in the last session.

R.C.N. played a bustling type of game and while they failed to display the football shown by the visitors, they managed to score goals, and it's oaks that count. H.M.S. Exeter looked their best after the locals banged home the first tally of the match ten minutes after the start, and only for fine defensive work on the part of the R.C.N. would probably have been in front at the break.

Again in the second half, the visitors, fighting a two-goal deficit, staged a determined rally and for a few minutes took command of the game, but that was their final bid. But when Lovesay, their left halfback, went off twenty minutes from time with an injured ankle, the boys from H.M.S. Exeter were not in the picture.

Ten minutes from the start R.C.N. took the lead when Murray, playing his first game in the series, beat Jones, visiting goalie, with a high shot. Seconds before Eddie DeCosta brought the netting to ground with a terrific drive.

Fighting like Trojans for the equalizer and playing their best football of the match H.M.S. Exeter took command of the game. They fired shots at Louis DeCosta, R.C.N. net custodian, but all in vain. Shortly before the interval their efforts were rewarded when Warder, in the left inn, fired a shot to the far corner of the goal. His vision blocked by his back, DeCosta had no chance to save.

The second half was only one minute old when Eddie DeCosta ploughed through the centre and banged a fast one into the Exeter net. In the lead for the second time during the match R.C.N. played inspired football. Locals widened their lead about the twenty-minute mark when Wilf DeCosta scored after taking Ross' pass right in the goal.

GOALIE INJURED
Play was suspended a few minutes later when Jones, visiting goalie, was injured in a collision with Murray, R.C.N. left winger. H.M.S. Exeter took command again soon after the restart, but found it impossible to get through the local defense. Cockrill, R.C.N. back, fouled one of the opposing forwards in the penalty area. Langmead took the kick and sagged the rigging.

Lovesay, visiting halfback, was carried from the field with an injured ankle fifteen minutes from time, and the British blue-jackets finished the game with ten men.

Eddie DeCosta wound up the scoring when he banged home his third goal just seconds before the final whistle.

Lieutenant-Commander J. C. I. Edwards presented the trophy and prizes to members of the teams.

Dowds refereed and the teams were:

R.C.N. — L. DeCosta, Cockrill, Dovey, Hutton, Robinson, Walker, Hibbert, Ross, E. DeCosta, W. DeCosta and Murray.

H.M.S. Exeter — Jones, Trim, Langmead, Morgan, Martin, Lovesay, Way, Sparks, Northey, McLeod and Warder.

Capturing the opening two sets and then the fourth after dropping the third, Eric Cox won the men's singles championship of the Esquimalt district Sunday by defeating Jerry Bowden, 6-2, 8-6, 3-6, 6-4.

On the courts of the Hillcrest Club Miss "Biddy" Boyce walked off with the women's crown by turning back Miss Herring in the final in a three-set match by scores of 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Wilkinson and Brown combined well together to capture the men's doubles title from Clarke and Raymond, 6-2, 6-2, 7-5, while Miss Boyce and Mrs. Erickson, the sister combination, were too formidable for Mrs. Bayles and Miss Hedden and ended the battle in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2.

Mrs. Erickson figured in another championship win when she teamed up with Alan Wright to take the mixed honors from Mrs. Bayles and Brown by scores of 6-2, 6-4.

Two more matches will be run off this evening in the women's consolation singles at 6 o'clock. Mrs. McQuade will meet Miss Gert Taylor and Mrs. A. LeMarquand faces Miss Helen Peden.

ADDRESS GIVEN TO GYRO CLUB

Bruce Hutchison, Victoria Columnist, Tells of His Recent Trip

Speaking informally on matters of "human interest" that had attracted his attention, Bruce Hutchison, Victoria columnist, who has just returned from a trip to the United Kingdom and Europe, gave an interesting address to the Gyro Club in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Mr. Hutchison devoted much of his time to comparing progress made by England and other European countries in various fields with that shown by Canada and the United States. "In matters of social reform," he said, "England is progressing much more rapidly than the American countries. The strides that are being made by the Conservative Government in this field are proving quite satisfactory even to labor leaders. At the present time the United Kingdom is about twenty-five years ahead of us in social and labor legislation."

"In other fields, such as industrial and mechanical progress," Mr. Hutchison stated, "the reverse is true. English and European plumbing, hotel services, telephone systems, heating and cooking methods are infinitely behind the American. In view of this, it is interesting that English postoffice and underground railway systems are the most advanced in the world."

FREEDOM OF SPEECH

"One of the most notable things about England," the speaker said, "is that there is a much greater degree of freedom of speech than even that enjoyed in Canada."

"Most Europeans are not worried like we are about war and depression," Mr. Hutchison pointed out. "Yet Europe has great problems to cope with, the basic cause of which is her inability to feed her people. This, in turn, is due to the fact that since the industrial revolution she has depended on manufactures that are now no longer wanted by food-producing nations."

Commenting briefly on the Imperial Conference in London, Mr. Hutchison explained that the proposals for a new trade policy with the United States would necessitate considerable losses to British Columbia in lumber and apple exports to the United Kingdom. "Canada must face this issue and the defence problem in an intelligent way," Mr. Hutchison concluded.

What Today Means

"LEO"

If August 3 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 2:15 to 4:15 p.m. and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:15 to 8:15 a.m., from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m. and from 9:15 to 11:15 p.m.

Conditions will be conducive on this date for the spirit of recklessness to exist. Anything of an adventurous nature is apt to intrigue you. Taking long chances will be tempting. If you are wise you will not give in to these impulses, but will regulate your day in a conservative way. Many new ideas, however, will be conceived, and those that will stand an analytical test, even if they are seemingly radical, may open up new profitable fields of activity. This ought to be a most auspicious day for anyone having anything to do with Mother Earth. Real estate agents and owners, agriculturalists, geologists, and miners should find this a very favorable day for them. Those seeking diversion through social contacts are not likely to be disappointed in their anticipated results. Married and engaged couples, and those matrimonially inclined must be careful some manifestation of selfishness does not spoil their day.

If a woman and August 3 is your birthday, you must never permit yourself to get into the habit of talking sharply to those who are near and dear to you. A quick tongue can very easily become a sharp one with a sting. You perhaps may do much better in an intellectual pursuit than one requiring physical adroitness. Your business judgment is likely to enable you to acquire a substantial amount of money through some very unexpected opportunity being presented to you. Social activities deserve your special attention, for through them you not only can become popular but might have a chance of using them advantageously in a business venture. There seems to be little cause for your being worried in the slightest degree about your marriage turning out well. As a writer, sculptor, actress, designer, teacher or specialty shop manager, you ought to do extremely well financially.

The child born on August 3, by the time it arrives at preparatory school age, will probably have developed a keen sense of humor that is apt to prove to be a saving grace. The chances are that a remarkably affectionate nature, a quick mind and a gracious manner are going to turn out to be among its most valuable assets.

If a man and August 3 is your natal day, honesty will prove to be the best policy. Aggressive and mentally alert as a salesman, journalist, artist, manufacturer, banker, promoter, or politician, your opportunities are likely to be unlimited.

DISASTROUS FLOODS FOLLOW HEAVY RAINS

MANTLA, Aug. 2 (AP)—Ten days of incessant torrential rains have caused twelve known deaths in flood provinces surrounding Manila.

An undetermined number of others were reported dead along the Agno River in Pangasinan Province, where at least twenty are said to have died of dysentery. Thousands of persons were still marooned by raging mountain streams, and the list of dead apparently will grow as reports percolate to Manila over disrupted communications. The rains continued.

VETERANS MEET AT PENTICTON

Convention Told Federal Gov't Eventually Must Care For Their Jobs

PENTICTON, B.C., Aug. 2 (AP)—Robert MacNicol, British Columbia secretary of the Canadian Legion, told more than 200 delegates to the eleventh convention here today that the time was not far distant when the Federal Government would be required to take over complete responsibility for unemployed ex-servicemen.

Outlining the work of the Veterans' Assistance Committee, of which he is a member, Mr. MacNicol said the commission found a total of 43,000 ex-servicemen listed in the Dominion of which a portion had been taken care of.

THREE MAIN GROUPS

They were divided into three main groups, Mr. MacNicol said: the physically fit, the partially fit and the unfit. Of the 24,007 that had already been tabulated, 13,730 belonged to the fit group, 7,437 to the partially fit and 3,558 to the unfit class.

British Columbia's portion of the total number, he said, was 4,810 men. Several plans for the employment of ex-servicemen had already been tried out, such as the workshop plan and the farm plan.

"I am not sold on the workshop idea," the secretary declared, explaining that the men tended to renege on the workshop instead of evolving through them into the world of open industry.

PLAN NOT BIG ENOUGH

Although he said he was suspicious of all farm schemes, that project was proving fairly successful but it did not serve the desired purpose because it would not make much of an impression on the larger number of cases that had to be dealt with.

The provincial secretary said 90 per cent of the solution to the problem was dependent upon private industry.

"There is a definite limit to what can be accomplished here," he said. "With all the young men seeking work, many of them the product of the depression years, the problem becomes acute. If you think private industry can absorb both the ex-servicemen and the younger generations now coming up, I don't," the secretary declared.

CIVIC SERVICE WELL ATTENDED

Rev. Canon Chadwick Leads Anniversary Observance At St. John's Church

St. John's Church was the scene Sunday morning of a civic anniversary service attended by many representatives of the City, Navy, Army and Provincial Government. The service marked the city's seventy-fifth anniversary of incorporation and also the seventy-fifth milestone of St. John's Church, which was originally a shanty building where the Hudson's Bay Company store now stands.

Rev. Canon Chadwick, rector of St. John's, arranged the service with assistance of Bishop George E. Lloyd and Rev. G. R. V. Bojter. G. Jennings Burnett presided at the organ and led the choir. The service followed the regulation Church of England ritual and lasted seventy-five minutes.

Canon Chadwick chose for his sermon the text of St. Paul, "I am a citizen of no mean city." St. Paul referred to Tarsus, and Canon Chadwick stated it was interesting to note the resemblance, in many respects, between the ancient city and Victoria.

He recounted the days when Bishop Hilly laid the corner-stone of St. John's Church, lovingly called the "Old Iron Church." He had read how the Bishop remarked that the material and spiritual side of the colony were bound together.

In conclusion, Canon Chadwick reminded the congregation that St. Paul said "Our citizenship is in Heaven."

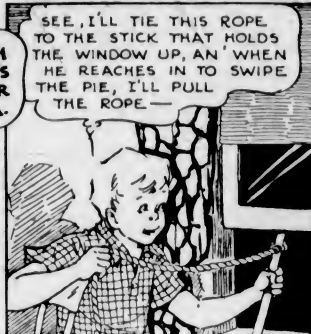

TWO KILLED IN PLANE COLLISION

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2 (AP)—Two men were killed and two others were critically injured in a collision of two airplanes preparing to land at Dyers airport tonight.

Chester O. Powers, twenty-four, a private pilot, and his passenger, Harry Allen Wigley, were killed as Powers' plane locked wings with a biplane, witnesses told police.

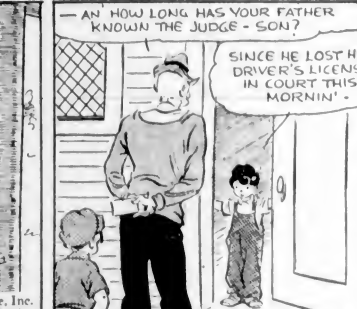

He pressed the bells. There was a ring.

CHAPTER XVI

Men and women were kissed and embraced. A little boy ran into his father's arms. A photographer snapped a picture of a woman celebrity. There was general disorder. Baggage was opened and inspected and closed again. One indignant woman was arguing violently with an inspector to the amusement of others. One young mother looked frantically for her lost child, found her, and spanked her soundly. But home-coming was gay and everyone, except the little girl wailing loudly, looked abnormally happy.

Then Edie saw Neil, wearing a loose brown topcoat and a straw hat. She shook hands with an elderly man and an elderly woman, smiled his strong, swift, brilliant smile, saw him stand beside the inspector while his bags were opened. Then she saw Joanna, who had been standing quietly, thoughtfully, run to him and put her arms around him and kiss him. Edie felt her strength leave her, seeing Neil and Joanna in each other's arms.

They were talking now. What were they saying? What were they saying? Neil looked strong and sunburned and happy. Seeing how white, how wretched she looked, David said, "Steady there. He'll see you soon. And Edie, I'd like to ask one thing of you—one big thing. Don't ever tell Neil it was I who caused him to lose his job. Right now that's the most important thing in the world to me."

"I'll never tell him or anyone. You may depend on that."

She would stay and see him. It would be cowardly to run away. And he would be coolly polite to her, remembering the last time they had been together—that twilight in the park when he had said he did not love her. Perhaps he pitied her still, pitied the girl who had loved him and believed him and offered him her life, who had written to him in New York, "I'm waiting, I wait forever." Perhaps David would suggest their having dinner together, the four of them, and perhaps she would dance with Neil again. How jolly that would be, she thought bitterly! And tomorrow she would be in the shop again. . . . How remote home and the shop seemed now! She thought, "Neil, why couldn't it have been I? We could have been splendid, the two of us."

Now Neil was talking to Joanna. Edie thought, "Why doesn't he see me and come to us? I can't stand this! I want to get it over! Where has he been? Why has he come back? For her? Yes, that's it! He has come back for her."

"He hasn't seen us," David said with impatience, "and she hasn't told him we are here, waiting." The crowd was thinning. Over the river a thick mist had settled, intensifying the twilight. It was raining harder now.

Then Neil and Joanna began to walk slowly toward them. Edie gripped the gate that separated them. Don't cry, she thought. But her throat ached and nothing in her life had ever hurt quite so much as this. Funny, that in a world of so many men only one man was important and beloved. In a moment he would see her. . . .

ARE INVITED TO BAR CONVENTION

The Washington State Bar Association, which will hold its annual gathering in Bellingham on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 12-14, has extended an invitation to the Bar of Victoria to be present and join in the proceedings. The invitation was received by A. D. Crease, president of the Bar Association of Victoria in a letter from W. C. McLaren, president of the Washington Bar Association, in which the hope was expressed that Mr. Crease and any other members of the local bar would be present.

In his letter, Mr. McLaren points out that the leading address of the convention will be delivered by Caleb Perry Patterson, of the University of Texas, who will speak on August 13 on the subject "The Suggestive Features of the English Judicial System."

In a suitable reply, thanking the Bar of Washington for the invitation, Mr. Crease expressed his regret that he would not be able to attend, but he hoped that some members of the Victoria Bar would be present. The friendly relations that had long existed between Victoria and the neighboring cities in Washington were referred to in the letter and Mr. Crease quoted from an old song of other days which ended with "Aren't You Going to Whoomp, Down on Bellingham Bay."

PAID VISIT TO OREGON DURING HIS VACATION

Magistrate H. C. Hall, after a two weeks' holiday, returned to his duties on the bench yesterday. He presided in the city police court at yesterday's sitting. During his holiday he made a tour of the Pacific Coast as far south as Eugene, Ore. The vacation was a very enjoyable one, affording him an opportunity of seeing the beautiful State of Oregon at its best. Remarking upon the good neighbors which Canadians have in the citizens of the United States, Mr. Hall remarked upon the fact that one would have difficulty in distinguishing between residents of a state like Oregon and those of the old-established provinces of Canada.

Gas light illumination appeared in Victoria stores first in 1862.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Shadow the Weasel Enjoys Himself
—By THORNTON W. BURGESS

When I start to do a thing I always see it through. I find it really is the best and only way to do.

That's a little rule that Shadow the Weasel made for himself a long time ago and which he tries to live up to. Of course sometimes things happen to prevent but usually he does whatever he sets out to do. It really is a very good rule if you add to it this:

I never try to do a thing I shouldn't if I could. And always try to make that thing a thing that's really good.

But Shadow never has added that last part. In truth Shadow would just laugh at that if he should hear it. The fact is, Shadow the Weasel has a bad heart. Yes, sir, Shadow has a bad heart, a black, black heart. It is such a black heart that sometimes it seems as if there was no good in it. None of his neighbors—beavers there is. They all hate him, even his own cousins Billy Mink, and Jimmy Skunk. And Shadow doesn't seem to care. It seems sometimes as if he actually enjoyed being hated. Certainly he enjoys seeing other little people afraid of him, as most of them are, particularly those somewhere near his size. Just whisper in the ear of Peter Rabbit, or Happy Jack Squirrel, or Danny Meadow Mouse, or Striped Chipmunk, or Mrs. Grouse that Shadow the Weasel is near and see how anxious they will grow.

This particular morning Shadow had been feeling very much out of sorts. Yes, sir, Shadow had been feeling very much out of sorts. You see he had hunted most of the night without finding anything to eat, and so he was hungry, very hungry. Indeed, he had been out on the Green Meadow hunting for Danny Meadow Mouse when he heard Chatterer the Red Squirrel scolding over in the Green Forest. Shadow lifted his head to listen. Then a cruel hungry look crept into his eyes and he showed his sharp little teeth in a cruel, hungry smile as he said: "That sounds to me like last night's dinner and this morning's breakfast both in one. I think Chatterer will make a better meal than even Danny Meadow Mouse." With that he licked his lips and started in the direction of Chatterer's voice, and he actually had started up the tree Chatterer was in before Chatterer saw him. It was then that Chatterer had started on his mad flight of fear through the treetops.

This Particular Morning Shadow Had Been Very Much Out of Sorts.

Now while Chatterer raced and jumped through the tree tops as fast as ever he could, and so tired himself out, Shadow the Weasel took his time in following. He ran swiftly, but not swiftly enough to tire himself. He didn't try to keep Chatterer in sight. You see, he trusted to his nose to tell him where Chatterer had gone, and his nose never deceived him. It told him just what branches Chatterer had run along and just where he had jumped to the next tree. Now Shadow was himself a nimble climber, and he had no trouble in going wherever Chatterer had gone until he reached the place where Chatterer had made the long jump and fallen. Shadow just glanced at it and turned around. He had no mind to risk any such fall as that. He knew that all he had to do was to run down the tree and up the next. When he reached the ground he started at a gallop across to the next tree, but from habit his nose was busy on the ground as he ran. Suddenly he stopped. "Ha!" said he. "Seems to me I smell Chatterer down here! What does that mean?" His nose led him straight to the tree and up. Shadow grinned. He knew perfectly what had happened. "Chatterer missed that jump and had a bad fall. I guess it must have shaken him up a little and he won't be able to run so fast," thought he. Then he started on as lively as ever. He was enjoying himself. He didn't mind that run through the tree tops, because he didn't have to hurry any faster than he pleased and because he was sure of a good dinner at the end.
